Killer Walks Into Police Station, Confesses to Murderous Attack

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—(UP)—Albert Walter Jr., 28, of New York and Boston, who calmly confessed he strangled and attacked red-haired Blanche Cousins, 21, of Idaho Falls, Ida., ended his first night in prison today by describing his motive for the crime.

"She lured me—then repulsed me," he said, as quoted by police. "So I killed her."

The terse confession was in accord with Walter's first announcement of the crime which caused officers in the Hall of Justice to believe he was "kidding."

He entered the building late last night and asked directions for finding the proper person to whom to confess a murder. After some delay he was ushered into the inspectors' office.

"My conscience hurts me," he said, with a precise Back Bay accent.

"Yeah," said the burly inspector nearest him.

"I want to give myself up," continued Walter.

"I strangled a girl."

The officers first adopted a "so what" attitude and "humored" Walter by accompanying him to his apartment.

There, on a disarranged bed, lay the nude body of Blanche Cousins, nurse, who came to San Francisco to find work.

A silken stocking was knotted tightly around her throat.

She had died Tuesday night, Walter confessed, when their evening of dinner, cocktails and love-making climaxed in a swirl of passion.

Walter said he had "walked around" after he realized what he

CAMPAIGN OF GOP IN EAST IS UNDER WAY

NEW YORK, June 18.—(UP)—National Republican Chairman John D. M. Hamilton began organizing the G. O. P. eastern campaign today with a prediction that President Roosevelt will carry only six states in November.

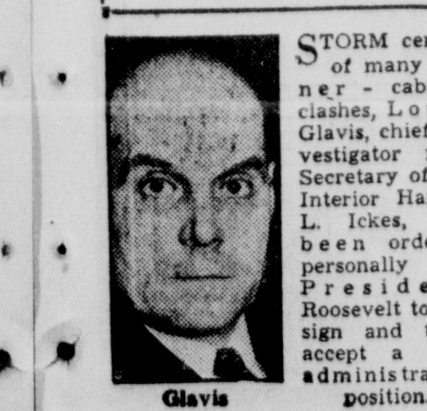

Five minutes after he arrived by air from Topeka he named Congressman Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, floor manager for Gov. Alf M. Landon at the Republican convention, to manage the eastern campaign. Miss Natalie Couch of Nyack, N. Y., will direct organization of women.

Hamilton said it was a "sure thing" Governor Landon would carry most of the east, as well as "Kansas and the states west of it."

"You folks of the east have no idea how the west has warmed to Governor Landon and Frank Knox," he said. "President Roosevelt ought to carry six states, but I'll let Postmaster General Farley try to name them."

A meeting of the party finance committee was first on Hamilton's schedule today.

WPA ADOPTS PREVAILING WAGE SCALE

COUNTY ASKED TO SECURE RIGHTS-OF-WAY AT ONCE

WORD THAT the U. S. army engineers are ready to proceed with construction of the $13,000,000 Orange county flood control project, as soon as Orange county can provide rights-of-way, today set the county supervisors at the task of preparing for a new flood bond election, of probably $2,500,000 or less.

Reappraisal of lands required for dam sites and other right-of-ways, which were estimated at $3,500,000 in 1929, is expected to be the first step in the county's program, and probably will be considered by the supervisors next Tuesday, according to Chairman John C. Mitchell.

Parley in L. A.

Chairman Mitchell and other members of the board were called to Los Angeles today to confer with Major Wyman, district engineer for the war department, who announced the army's readiness to go ahead with the project as soon as Orange county can provide the lands.

The Orange county project was at the head of the flood control measure enacted by congress, and the army is anxious to proceed with it, the officials were informed.

The measure has been sent to the president, who has not yet signed it. Officials said they understood that after a certain date, the measure becomes a law, with or without the president's signature.

May Cut Appraisal

Supervisors have indicated their belief that the $3,500,000 appraisal of lands, based upon 1929 valuations, which was the basis of the bond proposal submitted to voters last year, probably would be materially reduced by a reappraisal. Chairman Mitchell today estimated that the reappraisal would not go over $2,500,000. It would be used for the basis of a new bond call, for the amount of the appraisal, which may even go lower than $2,500,000, as compared to the $6,660,000 the voters were asked to float last year, under the WPA set-up.

As a war department project, now, the Orange county job would be financed entirely by the federal government, except for the lands. The federal appropriation is $13,000,000.

NEW DEALERS RULE PARTY AS CONVENTION DAY NEARS

PHILADELPHIA, June 18.—(UP)—New Dealers head into their national convention next week in full control of the party, with dissatisfied Democrats either suppressed or busy taking walks.

All signs point to a brief, hard-fought fight on whether the two-thirds rule shall be abolished, some wrangling in committee over a platform and then harmony and good will among the delegates.

Gov. Eugene Talmadge of Georgia took his walk today, but in a tentative sort of way. A telegram cancelled the reservation he had made for an entire hotel floor during the convention. In Atlanta, he refused to say whether he would support the party's nominee and its platform.

Two months ago Talmadge was stumping across Georgia, threatening to fight the renomination of President Roosevelt on the convention floor. He even won the endorsement of the "grass roots" Democrats in Macon, Ga., for the presidential nomination, and was expected to march into Philadelphia with red suspenders draped to breathe brimstone at the New Dealers.

ORDER STRIKE WAR TRUCE AS 14 ARE WOUNDED IN OHIO

KENT, O., June 18.—(UP)—Embattled pickets besieging the Black and Decker Tool Co. plant were ordered today to "cease firing" after a six-hour battle in which seven strikers and seven strike-breakers huddled in the factory were shot and gassed.

The order was issued by a strikers' council as Sheriff E. L. Burr attempted to work out a plan for removing the 40 beleaguered strike-breakers from the bullet-battered plant.

A mob of several hundred armed pickets voted unanimously to behind their barricade of earth and iron to permit the sheriff to remove strike-breakers from the plant. It appeared at the time that the national guard command of the situation if the onslaught did not stop.

National guard observers worked ceaselessly to remove the strike-breakers from the plant before the force of 3000 strikers and sympathizers was augmented by rubber workers from nearby Akron.

Firing opened shortly after 5 a. m. today when two vanloads of strike-breakers crashed the picket lines, established May 3 when the company refused to grant a 10 per cent increase to tool workers.

As strike-breakers started for the plant, pickets moved to stop them. A barrage of tear gas, buckshot and gunshots was laid down by the strike-breakers.

Seven pickets fell, injured either by the tear gas or shot. Others Infuriated pickets flanked the plant of three sides and laid down a continuous fire. Their main strong hold was behind a terrace across the street and 150 feet from the three-story brick building.

They set up a galvanized iron barricade atop the breastworks and used rifles in "picking off" moving figures inside the plant.

On either side other details advanced cautiously, taking cover behind houses and sheds. Still others climbed atop a nearby apartment building and opened fire.

Strike-breakers and a few company officials huddled on the cement floor of the three-story factory as bullets whizzed above their heads.

Officials appealed to county and state authorities for aid. They said two of the seven injured strike-breakers were dying because the striking machinists refused to permit physicians to enter the plant.

ACTION WILL CAUSE COSTS TO INCREASE

Action Marks Victory for Labor in Struggle to Secure Boost

COST OF completing Works Progress Administration projects now under way in Orange county will be increased by more than a half million dollars starting July 1 when the prevailing wage scale goes into effect on all WPA projects in the county, The Register learned today.

The unprecedented decision to go on the prevailing wage scale here was announced here through Dan Mulherson, county WPA manager, who received a telephonic communication from George White, district director, in San Diego.

Labor had been battling to have the prevailing wage rate established for work on WPA projects. The security wage rate is $48 for labor, $55 intermediate, $70 skilled labor and $77 professional and technical work per month. The new decision increases common labor costs by 40 per cent and other labor costs nearly 50 per cent, according to local WPA officials.

The result will be an increase of at least 35 per cent in the total cost of projects, or more than a half million dollars. Labor costs on projects now operating are $1,556,083. The costs will run over two million dollars with the increase. Cost of materials, in addition, on current projects run around a half million dollars.

In spite of the fact that the wage scale will be considerably higher in Orange county on WPA projects, it was explained that the workers will receive no more money. The net result will be a marked decrease in the number of hours per month that they work. This is important to the WPA worker because it will give him more time to earn money on odd jobs outside his project work.

Whereas he now works 120 hours a month, divided up into 40 hours a week at six hours a day, he will have less hours under the new set-up.

Local WPA officials hope that some plan can be worked out so that the WPA workers can put

STRATEGISTS WHO WILL PLOT GOP CAMPAIGN

These three men will sit in the seats of power in the Republican national committee, as result of changes made in the directing body after the Republican convention. New chairman is John D. M. Hamilton of Kansas, left, Landon's campaign chief, who succeeds Henry P. Fletcher, senior member of the committee and vice chairman is Ralph Williams of Oregon, center. Another vice chairman is J. Henry Roraback of Connecticut, long a leader in the national party.

FORCE THREAT IS HURLED IN CITRUS STRIKE

UNDERCOVER men and deputies working on the staff of Sheriff Logan Jackson today reported "strong-arm" methods of directing the citrus pickers' strike will be started tomorrow morning, according to information they received through their investigations.

"If this information is correct, I'm telling them right now that their strong-arm methods will be met with strong-arm methods," Sheriff Jackson declared with emphasis today. "The information we received is that the strike agitators will forcibly keep the willing pickers from their work. Should any trouble start, we are ready to meet it."

Return to Work

Today, as dozens of men were reported by packing house officials as going back to their jobs, Sheriff Jackson and Capt. H. C. Mehan of the California Highway patrol reported "all quiet" except for little groups of Mexicans circulating about the county and urging workers to quit.

Last night a strikers' meeting in Orange with the "strikers' committee," was reported to have brought 1000 Mexicans out. A complete checkup of all parked cars in the vicinity of the meeting place on North Cypress street, made by California Highway patrolmen, revealed license plates from a score of places outside of the county and it was believed these plates were registered to some of the allegedly imported agitators.

ANGRY TEXAS MOB SETS FIRE TO CAFE

EL CAMPO, Tex., June 18.—(UP)—Members of a mob seeking 10 Negroes suspected in the slaying of Tim Simmons, 30, special officer at Wharton, today set fire to the cafe-dance hall where Simmons was killed.

The blaze was quickly extinguished and damage was slight.

The mob two hours before had surrounded the Matagorda county jail, shortly after the Negroes had been removed for safekeeping.

The 10 suspects—six men and four women—were arrested during the day for questioning. Simmons was stabbed to death when he sought to stop a drunken brawl between Negroes celebrating payment of the bonus.

State fire truck crews and 25 CCC camp workers from the El Toro camp were called to fight a brush fire which broke out east of Lemon Heights this afternoon. Trucks from Orange, Yorba Linda and Midway City were rushed to the scene of the fire. The call for aid came at 1:52 o'clock.

A number of large homes are in the district.

Edgar "Don" DeBord Jail-ed by H. B. Police Confesses Under Grilling

A 35-year-old Laguna Beach taxi driver fought death today at St. Joseph hospital, the youth who broke down last night and confessed to sheriff's officers that he was involved in the slugging, robbing and shooting of Marshall was behind county jail bars, charged in a complaint, with attempted murder and robbery.

The youth, whose companion escaped, is Edgar "Don" DeBord, 18, of 312 East A street, Ontario, arrested yesterday afternoon by Chief H. L. Grant and Officer Berkey of Huntington Beach when he stopped his Chevrolet automobile beside Berkey to inquire the condition of Marshall, cruelly attacked Tuesday night in Laguna canyon, shot with a .38 caliber bullet which crashed against his spine, paralyzing him below the waist, robbed of $6 or $7 and callously dumped behind a Laguna Beach restaurant.

Names Companion

The youth whose apprehension is expected momentarily, is DeBord's pal, Jerry Clinton Vance, 18, of Chino, who speeded to Los Angeles after the crime and abandoned Marshall's taxicab there. DeBord, placed in solitary confinement last night, broke down and confessed the two had planned the taxi robbery but that it was Vance who did the shooting when Marshall resisted.

Marshall testified at a bedside hearing that the reason the youths took him back to Laguna Beach after the shooting was "because I wouldn't tell them not to let me lie out here to die and told them I wouldn't tell on them." The youths allegedly parked DeBord's Chevrolet car three miles up the Laguna

CONGRESS MAY END SESSION EARLY SUNDAY

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(UP)—Congressional action was completed today on the $2,376,597,000 relief-deficiency bill, one of the principal stumbling blocks in the way of adjournment. The senate sent the bill to the White House after agreeing with house action knocking out a proposal to resurvey the Florida Ship canal.

The relief bill and the administration tax bill are the only two measures characterized by leaders as "must" legislation. Tax conferees were reported near complete agreement.

Speaker of the House William B. Bankhead said he hoped to get the tax bill conference report "at least by Saturday" and he said he will hold the house "until Sunday morning if necessary to wind up the session."

As finally agreed upon, the relief-deficiency bill gives President Roosevelt sole control over distribution of the relief fund and permits WPA Administrator Harold Ickes wider use of a $300,000,000 revolving fund so that grants as well as loans can be made for public works projects.

The relief fund of $1,425,000,000 is intended largely for continuation of Harry Hopkins' WPA activities. It was included as part of the $2,376,597,000 relief deficiency appropriation measure carrying funds for many federal activities, including the Tennessee Valley authority and social security board.

VICE KING SENTENCED

NEW YORK, June 18.—(UP)—Charles (Lucky) Luciano, New York public enemy, was hustled into a heavily guarded supreme court today and sentenced to 30 to 50 years in prison for compulsory prostitution as head of a vice ring that drew $12,000,000 a year from more than 1,000 young women.

Canyon road, returned to the city, hired Marshall and when the three reached the Chevrolet, crashed the revolver butt over Marshall's head from their back-seat vantage point. "I had a premonition they were going to hit me," Marshall, operated on last night by two local doctors and Dr. D. W. Dickerson of Los Angeles for repair of his shattered spine, declared yesterday. "I ducked my head and got a smashing blow. As I turned and grabbed at one of them, he fired the gun."

"One of them got out a piece of rope and was going to tie me up and leave me there," Marshall related. "I'm mighty glad they didn't."

Marshall identifies DeBord. The piece of rope was identified as being in the hands of DeBord, also identified by Marshall as being at the scene of the crime.

"We came over here to take jobs at a Fullerton dairy," DeBord related. "Jerry wanted to go to the beach so we went, and down there, planned to 'take' Marshall."

According to investigations of Chief Criminal Deputy Merle Dean and Deputies James Workman and G. F. McKelvey of the sheriff's office, DeBord apparently took his Chevrolet to the scene of the shooting, parked it and walked back to town. Vance and DeBord had a date to meet today or tomorrow at Santa Monica, but DeBord apparently "hung around" to see the ex-

Boy's Heaven Discovered In Garage

A boy with "cookie hunger" has little conscience, city police realized today, following investigation of the activities of a 10-year-old Santa Ana youth, Mrs. Louis Martin, 111 1-2 South Broadway, declared a cookie salesman had used the garage on her place as a warehouse for cookies and the 10-year-old found it out. The little fellow, with his hunger reported as satisfied, was given a little talk on honesty and taken home.

citement. He told Assistant District Attorney James L. Davis he walked by the County taxicab office at Laguna Beach yesterday and heard much talk of the shooting but didn't ask about it.

Arrested at Beach. Later, he went to Huntington Beach, where he questioned Officer Bergey and fell afoul the Huntington Beach law.

After obtaining a partial statement from DeBord, Officer Workman took him to Ontario and China where further information was obtained regarding the youths' activities.

Today, Long Beach taxicab officials were to come here to attempt to identify DeBord as one of two youths who staged a similar goadup there recently, robbing a taxicab driver but otherwise doing him no harm. DeBord and Vance answer perfectly to the description of the pair who worked in Long Beach, Long Beach police declared.

The popular Marshall, whose hospital today was reported by hospital attendants as better, only last Sunday afternoon became a Good Samaritan in the eyes of all Laguna Beach folk as he gave a blood transfusion to Former Judge Herbert Earhart, 67-year-old Laguna Beach acquaintance, of 521 Gleneyre street, at Orange county hospital. Judge Earhart, injured in an automobile accident, was taken to the hospital with a fractured leg; later he suffered a gastric hemorrhage and required a quick blood transfusion. Marshall, tall, husky youth, immediately offered his blood to save the old man's life.

Police Get Descriptions. Carl Smith, employee of the Dude ranch of Laguna canyon, gave officers a complete description of the two youths who attacked Marshall.

"I was driving along the canyon road and saw the taxicab in a ditch with another car, a Chevrolet nearby," Smith told Deputy Sheriff Duhamel, Deputy Herman Zabel and the other deputies, shortly before DeBord's capture. "I stopped and asked if they wanted some assistance. The shorter, heavier man said he didn't—that the taxicab was ditched when the two cars almost collided." Benny Martez and Freddie Violet, Laguna Beach youths, declared they saw a youth driving the Laguna Beach taxicab in Trabuco canyon after the shooting and that the youth was apparently lost.

Through the teletype system and through a recently adopted radio system agreement among the sheriff's offices of this district, Pasadena, Los Angeles and San Diego, and 14 other cities of Southern California, a state-wide hunt was in progress today, as all officers sought young Vance. According to Sheriff Logan Jackson, the new radio system gives quicker service than the teletype. Each of four cities has a supplemental radio along the regular broadcasting system and wave lengths are so set as to create a close unit of association among all officers in the southern district. The system works by the usual broadcasts plus relays.

registered license plates on his car and of four other traffic law offenses. He was booked at county jail to await hearing in Orange court. License plates the officers reported, which were found on a car operated by Adam Sepulveda, Corona man, who was driving when Francisco Gonzales, 25, also of Corona, suffered injuries from which he died in county hospital yesterday, belonged to Inda, Sepulveda also was arrested and jailed, reports show, and charged with operating a car with false registration.

At the meeting last night, sheriff's officers received a newly published list of demands made by the strikers, they said. The demands were for banishment of the bonus plan and granting of free transportation, as well as for $3.60 wages for a nine-hour day with picking of 30 boxes of fruit, and 7 cents per box for the total over 30—demands made previously—and free clippers and sacks for all pickers. "If we get what we ask for, we will sign a contract to finish out the picking season," the demands-petition, signed by the "Central Committee for the Strike" read.

Patrol District. Sheriff Jackson and Deputy Bob Steinberger yesterday patrolled the Orange, Olive, Fullerton, La Habra, Placentia, La Jolla camp, Corona camp and Atwood districts, finding everything quiet. At a meeting in Corona camp, the sheriff said he made a check to determine how many of 27 Mexicans present were aliens and found "all but one" were never naturalized after their appearance in the United States from Mexico.

Accusations made by Stuart Strathman, packing house representative yesterday, that citrus growers here are the victims of a "little Mexican revolution" due to differences between followers of Cardenas, president of Mexico, and Calles, president, were flatly denied by Ricardo Hill, Mexican consul, today. He and Lucio Lucio, vice consul, both insist that they do not want and will not countenance any radical elements within the ranks of the striking pickers. Lucio has claimed the pickers only wish "justice" through elimination of racketeering picking foremen, and "the wage question is of minor importance."

Meanwhile, several hundred school boys and others, including Filipino and Japanese pickers, have been hired and the citrus shipment schedule has been maintained regularly. Strathman said practically all jobs would be filled by tomorrow when the allegedly "strong arm" methods will be put into play by the strikers, according to information of officers.

Six strikers at the Santa Barbara Juice company plant in Orange had their places filled shortly after they left their work yesterday, according to plant officials. They asked for an increase in pay from 25 cents an hour to 40 cents. They work 10 hours per day.

The other six men employed by the firm declined to go on strike and continued with their work. It was said. The company cans orange juice.

Madison Square battle when more than 100 ballots were taken before Democrats could get a candidate. In a flying trip through the city yesterday he said the issue undoubtedly would go to the convention floor and that there was much sentiment in favor of retaining the rule.

One Ballot Forecast. Once that issue is settled and the platform is adopted, the convention will settle back to the business of renominating Mr. Roosevelt and Vice President John N. Garner. Both will be put across on the first ballot, and the high point of the convention will come Saturday night when the president steps into the flood lights at Franklin field to deliver his acceptance speech—an address that will pitch the tune for the Democratic campaign against the Landon-Knox ticket.

VICTIM'S CHARACTER BEYOND REPROACH

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, June 18. (UP)—Blanche Cousins, 24-year-old Idaho Falls girl, attacked and strangled in her San Francisco apartment, was quiet and retiring, C. H. Trayner, superintendent of the Latter Day Saints hospital where she once was employed said today.

"Her character was beyond reproach," Trayner said. "Blanche was a lovely girl of fine character," he said. "She was a valuable employee. She worked with us seven years and we were sorry to lose her when she went to San Francisco to take further business training."

Miss Cousins left Idaho Falls June 1 to improve her secretarial training, Trayner said. She intended, after getting her schooling, to find employment in San Francisco. She had saved a large percentage of her earnings and had ample money to tide her over until she finished her education and found a job, according to friends here.

A WORD OF COMFORT

Nothing but conscious dependence upon cooperation with God makes a man safe in the face of earthly temptations which sorrow overwhelms him.

The only way to make your personality invincible, confident and triumphant is to recognize His presence, learn to love Him and endeavor to obey Him.

Why suffering and sorrow come, you may never understand on this earth, but you can learn to so bear them that they bring you very near to the Paradise, where your dear ones are and where you shall be reunited with them.

ALLEN—Thursday morning, June 18, 1936, Mrs. Dora Allen, age 72 years, at her residence, First street and Verano road. Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Brown and Wagner Funeral home.

ENTIRE PLANT READY FOR USE BY CHRISTMAS

The last two units of Santa Ana's new $850,000 high school plant, built to defy any such earthquake as that which wrecked the old plant three years ago, were given a start last night when the board of education awarded conditional contracts on Blocks B and C, aggregating expenditures of $205,830.

The contracts awarded, subject to approval by federal PWA, were: Block B—two-story structure of 12 classrooms, to house home economics, music, English and history, $95,390, to Theron Means and Ball and Honer, of Santa Ana.

Block C—one-story building of seven classrooms and shops, to house industrial arts, $96,488, to E. F. Wopschall Pasadena.

Alternate project, for wiring heating lines and turning conduits; also walks drives, paving and storm drains—$13,952, to E. F. Wopschall.

The contracts are to be completed within 170 days which will mean that the full capacity of the new high school plant will be available for occupancy by Christmas, or earlier. The contract completion date is about December 10.

Three Units Ready

Three other units of the new high school group, work on which was started more than a year ago, in March, 1935, already are completed or under construction. The science building, Block D, is now in use, and finishing touches are being put to the magnificent new administration structure.

Block A. The contract was let a few weeks ago on Block E, the commercial building.

Block D, the science building,

includes eight classrooms, and cost $55,000.

Block A, the administration building, including the auditorium, little theater, library, art and English classrooms, cost approximately $454,500.

Block E, consisting of nine classrooms, housing the commercial and mathematics departments, will cost $63,987, according to contract figures. Its cost is interesting in comparison with that of the science building, consisting of eight classrooms, contracted little more than a year ago, at $55,000, showing the rising trend of building costs.

The contracts awarded last night leave approximately $35,000 unexpended bond and grant money, which will cover anticipated costs of tennis courts, fencing, retaining wall and landscaping at the high school, not yet started.

Total Cost $850,000

The total cost of the plant thus will be brought to a figure of between $800,000 and $850,000.

Of the $205,830 committed by last night's contracts, the federal government will supply 45 percent, or $92,523.50, leaving 55 percent, or $113,306.50 for the district to pay. Bonds voted last fall will provide financing.

The new school plant is built to "stay put," according to school officials. For example, the new administration building is supported upon 234 steel and concrete caissons, each nearly three feet in thickness, and extending into the earth from 30 to 35 feet. At the bottom they bell out another 18 inches, to provide firmer footing. These caissons also extend upward through the building itself. Officials say they have never seen

COORDINATING COUNCIL WILL SEND UNDERPRIVILEGED BOYS AND GIRLS TO SUMMER CAMP

One of the most worthwhile and commendable movements ever launched here to aid underprivileged boys and girls of Santa Ana, according to social workers, was under way today following a meeting of the Santa Ana Coordinating Council yesterday afternoon in the city hall, when plans were made to send several hundred of these youngsters to camp this summer.

Every character-building agency and many other groups and individuals are cooperating in the extensive program, being launched here for the first time this year. Cooperation of the public in donating funds to send some of the youngsters to camp will be asked.

In order to have a wholesome and healthful effect on the boys and girls, it was decided that they should have at least two weeks in camp. One youngster can be sent to camp one week for $3, so $6 will send a boy or girl to camp for the two-week period.

An appeal to persons who want to help will be made, asking for donations to send one or more youngsters to camp.

The exceptionally low cost of the camp per week is possible only through the cooperation of Terrence H. Halloran, Orange county SRA director, who has promised to furnish vegetables and other foodstuffs through the federal surplus commodity project, it was emphasized. The council estimates that about $750 is needed to carry out the project.

Limit on Ages

Boys will be limited to those from 10 to 15 years of age. The boys will go to Camp Rokill, the Boy Scout camp in that San Bernardino mountain, and girls will go to Camp Irvine, Boy Scout camp near Irvine Park.

The main idea behind the big effort this year is a juvenile delinquency prevention program. Youngsters who have a week or more in camp filled with wholesome and hearty outdoor activity will get started in the right direction, the social workers believe.

Only boys and girls whose parents cannot afford to send them to camp will be privileged to attend the camping sessions, tentatively set to begin on July 6.

The Boy Scout executive board already has made the two camps available for the project, and late yesterday Harrison E. White, Orange county Boy Scout executive, was named to take charge of the movement. Applications will be made through his office in the Spurgeon building, and it is planned that the WPA will assist through furnishing a secretary.

Doctors of the community will contribute their services in giving the youngsters physical examinations before they go to camp.

Many of these boys and girls who will be sent to camp are demoralized, it was brought out at the meeting yesterday, and for that reason they should stay in camp for at least two weeks to get them in good shape. Persons who want to help the program and play big brother to one or more youngsters in sending them to camp, may contact White at the Boy Scout office here. Local service clubs are expected to aid the program financially.

Cooperating Groups. Groups cooperating in the program include the service clubs, Elks club, Boy Scouts, school officials and teachers, Parent-Teacher associations, the Y.M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A. Girl Reserves, Girl Scouts, B. and P. W. club, SRA, WPA, witty welfare department, and many individuals.

Members of the Coordinating Council include J. A. Cranston, chairman; Nora F. Reid, Herbert Thomas, Herman Ranney, C. E. Sprague, Mrs. R. R. Russick, Mrs. R. E. Harris, Harrison White, Lytle Mitchell, Belle J. Spangler, Mary Alice Porter, Eleanor Crook-

WALTER R. ROBB IN SUPERVISOR RACE. FILES HIS PAPERS

Walter R. Robb, county organizer and speakers' bureau manager of the Townsend movement in Orange county, today announced his candidacy for supervisor from the first district simultaneously with filing of his papers.

"There is no reason why I should in any way disguise the fact that I will seek the support of the Townsmites and other friends of the first district," Robb said today. "I have served the Townsend organization in various capacities during the last two years and I feel certain they have confidence in my integrity of purpose in seeking through the Townsend Movement what I believe to be social justice."

"However if I am fortunate in being selected to represent the people of the first district as supervisor I will carry on my duties as the people's representative with the realization that the affairs of Orange county are of wide and diverse scope. I will make the most careful analysis possible of the various problems which shall present themselves for solution and then apply in my decisions and influence what I then consider to be sound business practices all of which citizens' interests considered."

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG — News Behind the News —

By PAUL MALLON
(Copyright, 1936, by Paul Mallon)
WASHINGTON

FINANCE.
Newly discovered methods of high political finance were contained in the latest campaign expenditures reports to congress. Most sensational is that of the Good Neighbor League. Apparently it has become a Delaware corporation, capitalized, for some reason or other, at $100,000. The assets are not listed, but the main asset appears to be the indisputable fact that it is doing the best pamphlet-selling promotion job for President Roosevelt's re-election. Its chief liability seems to be the uniqueness of its double entry bookkeeping.

IN-AND-OUT.
The only substantial contributor to the Good Neighbor League, Inc., was Dr. Stanley High, the president's new idea man. Dr. High donated $6000 to the league up to May 31 (the period covered by the report). Then, as now, he was the president of the corporation as well as the originator and sole inspiration.

But, while being all these things, Dr. High was also the largest item of cost of the league, the record shows. While he was putting $6000 he was taking out much of it in salary at $3000 per week, or $15,000 per year.

This undoubtedly makes the Good Neighbor League, Inc., one of the few corporations in the history of business whose chief source of revenue was also its greatest object of expenditure.

FRILLS.
Not only that, but the league also disclosed some of the semblances of being a holding company. Its second largest contributor was a loan of $3000, advanced to it on May 6 by the Democratic national committee, the security and interest rate of which are not mentioned.

Also it appears to have adopted some features of an interlocking directorate, because Dr. High seems to have some official connection with the Democratic national committee, other than that of banker and client. At least he is listed among the committee's smaller expenditures, as having received $40 on April 3, the day after he donated $2500 to his league.

These things certainly indicate that the bookkeeper of the league, Inc., requires a two-pants suit, or must wear an overcoat in summer, to provide enough pockets to keep the right money in the right pocket.

Another justifiable confusion from the record is that, so far, the only two losers in this unusual venture are Dr. High and the Democratic national committee.

Note—Noticeable activities of the league so far include the issuance of two booklets about the size of the Reader's Digest. One entitled "Endoglossing," and contains explanations of certain hoodwinking projects which have been laughed at generally, the other bears the title, "The Case against Franklin D. Roosevelt," and presents the case for him. The league also issues "The Roosevelt Record," a tabloid weekly. The booklets are on expensive paper and contain the best of any political publications.

CAMPAIGN
Advertisers are pulling and hauling at President Roosevelt, urging him to make a campaign trip through the West, and counselling him not to do so. The first batch is so-called.

ed by the G. O. P.'s shift westward. The second batch is convinced that the President will do best by spending the summer at home. One of them said, "Why not let well enough alone? Why take great risks?"

Apparently the scales swing in favor of those who advocate a presidential campaign upon midwestern strongholds. They argue that something spectacular must be done to counteract the G. O. P.'s attempt to capture the West. They regard the President as his own best vote-getter. They remind him of the tremendous welcome he received in 1932 when he invaded G. O. P. states.

Much depends upon the Landon plan of campaign. He, too, is already bombarded by advice pro and con. Undoubtedly the East would like to see Landon in action. President plans call for him to stick close to Topeka. Fox Films experts are coaching him for movie and radio work.

JELLING
National committees are squaring away for the fight. The Democrats have the advantage of a quick start, fully organized with keen-witted Jim Farley holding all the reins in his hand. John Hamilton must make over the G. O. P. headquarters—but he knows exactly what he wants to do.

When Hamilton came to Washington as counsel of the G. O. P. committee he couldn't get a stenographer. His cubby hole office was bleak. He managed to get along with Chairman Fletcher, but there was no special bond of affinity.

A vast expansion of G. O. P. activities is planned. The campaign weeks will be short after preliminary organization has eaten up time. Big work will be done through the press, which is set to swing in behind the able newspaper men who have developed the Landon candidacy.

Senator Vandenberg's colleagues were not surprised when he turned down nomination for the vice presidency. His course during the last six months gave a clear picture of his intentions. He avoided the presidential race as long as possible; joined it when he could not keep out; got out as soon as he could, and returned to the prospect of leading the opposition in the Senate.

Some of Vandenberg's intimates say that he became convinced long ago that 1940, and not 1936, was to be his climactic year. If elected vice president he would be tied to the Landon administration. If Landon should make good there would be a renomination; and if not, the nomination would go outside of the Landon entourage.

More than one student of political trends believe that the turning point will come in 1940. By that time the urban relief and farm relief questions ought to be out of the way. Until they are removed they believe that Roosevelt's spending program must continue and will be approved, even if it is costly.

THIRTY ENROLL IN NAVIGATION CLASS
With an initial enrollment of about 30 students, the new class in navigation to be taught by Hubert Kidder at the Y. M. C. A. made its start last night. The evening's work was devoted to introductory matters, with a general preview of what is to be done, and the keen interest of the students indicated a successful course.

Kidder states that new members may enroll next week and that he will try to keep them up with the class by means of frequent reviews. All who are interested in navigation, either marine or aerial, will find helpful material in the course, which is open to the public, free of charge. The next session will be held on next Wednesday evening in the east lobby of the Y. M. C. A.

Articles Filed By New Corporation
Production and marketing of carbon-dioxide gas is the stated purpose of a corporation known as the Long Green Carbon Dioxide Company, which has filed articles of incorporation at the county clerk's office. The incorporators are J. P. Chandler, Lee Stinson and Maude Stinson, all of 428 West Santa Clara avenue, Santa Ana. A capitalization of $25,000 is listed in the articles.

TRICYCLE RECOVERED
HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 18.—George Honold reported to the police yesterday that a tricycle was stolen from his home on California avenue and Franklin street. Howard Robidoux, motor officer, scouted the neighborhood and caught two small boys getting away with the tricycle and traveling east on Hampshire avenue. The tricycle was restored to its owner and the youthful daylight thieves will answer to the juvenile court.

VACATION FOR 6600 STUDENTS STARTS FRIDAY

No more lessons.
No more books.
No more teacher's Dirty looks!

Even as you and I, around 6600 Santa Ana school kids will be about to start their vacation. They are about to start their vacation. They are about to start their vacation.

None of the 6600 Santa Ana school kids will be about to start their vacation. They are about to start their vacation. They are about to start their vacation.

Seems like the school officials here played rather a dirty trick on the school kids, for the Santa Ana students had to go to school five days longer than in other parts of the county, where school has been out from one to two weeks.

In the elementary schools, school children were happy or sad, according to whether or not they were promoted. The elementary school children don't get old-fashioned report cards any more, but the older students in junior high, senior high and junior college do get a sort of report card. Santa Ana schools will reopen on September 14.

San Diego Man Held To Answer

Gird M. Bausell of San Diego, charged with receiving stolen property in connection with theft of three dresses from the J. C. Penney store two weeks ago, was held to answer to superior court today when he appeared before Justice Kenneth Morrison. Recognized as an alleged shoplifter by John Ortiz, as he left the Penney store, Bausell was captured after a three-block chase. Information against Bausell will be filed in superior court tomorrow, according to schedule. His woman companion, who assertedly took the dresses, escaped following the Ortiz identification.

HOME CLUB MEETS
BUENA PARK, June 18.—Members of the Modern Home Makers' club held their final session of the year Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Cole at Grand avenue and La Palma road. "Home Canning of Fruit, Fruit Juices and Jelly Making" was the topic for the session, with Miss Frances Liles, county home demonstration agent, in charge.

Mrs. Clarence Henderson and Mrs. C. E. Welch assisted Miss Frances Liles with the demonstration.

Veteran Throws Bonus Bonds Into Lavatory

An unidentified man, reported "more than merely intoxicated" by city police and Motor Transit employees yesterday afternoon, took 12 $50 bonus bonds from his pocket, staggered into the transit company lavatory "and threw the bonds away."

Upon report of a man raising a disturbance in the vicinity of the transit company headquarters, Third and Spurgeon, Officers C. W. Wolford and Charles Neer dashed to the scene but the man had mysteriously vanished. The bonds, which were recovered by the officers, were made out in the name of Harold Rist, World War veteran. Officer Neer said three bonds had been removed from the envelope which originally held 15 and could not be found. Rist was sought today as officers held the bonds for him.

MERCHANTS OF C. OF C. TO HOLD FORUM FRIDAY

The first of a series of weekly forums to be held in chamber of commerce headquarters each Friday at 8:45 will be conducted this week, according to an announcement made today by Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce. The forums are sponsored by the merchants' division of the chamber, and all business men, whether they are members of the chamber or not, are invited to attend the discussions.

It is the aim of the merchants' division to promote commercial activities for the benefit of the entire county as well as for Santa Ana. This is in line with the chamber's policy to promote Orange county as one of the most desirable residential districts in the country. Problems relating to business in the county will be the basis for the Friday morning discussions.

The retail board of the chamber of commerce was recently enlarged to include 18 members. This board, which will direct all commercial and retail activities of the chamber, includes Chairman Iyle Stein and Lester Carden, F. H. Durbin, J. H. Bell, John Knox, H. P. Rankin, J. N. Harding, Walter Swanberger, Lester Fountain, P. F. Colanichio, F. A. Jones, C. B. Steele, Charles Givens, Leonard Gorzeman, Hugh Gerard, Jerry Hall, Samuel Hart and Hugh J. Lowe.

Three divorce suits were on file today in superior court, as follows: Dolores H. O'Brien against Ray J. O'Brien, charging cruelty; Hazel Rodman against Otis Rodman, charging desertion; Dorothy Nantz against Joseph A. Nantz, charging desertion and non-support.

Superior Judge H. G. Ames late yesterday denied the $3520 damage suit brought by D. W. Gardner, ranch hand, against Luther Lindauer, La Habra rancher and gravel dealer, for injuries suffered by Gardner while employed on the Lindauer ranch, in 1934.

Mrs. Ruth E. Whiting, of Sunset Beach, won a divorce from Frank R. Whiting, 41, mental incompetent, at a hearing before Superior Judge George K. Scofield, who at the same time denied Whiting's cross-complaint for an annulment decree. The court took the question of alimony under advisement.

LIBERALIZED PENSION FOR STATE AGED STARTS JULY 1

SACRAMENTO, Cal., June 18.—(UP)—California's aged who have no means of support will greet July 1 as a happy turning point in their declining years.

From that day onward, they will be guaranteed a monthly income of $35 ($70 for a qualifying couple) and will not have to face the danger of being dependent upon the opinion of welfare workers who in the past may have based individual pension allowances upon a personal belief of the sum needed for bare sustenance.

Liberalized Pension
The liberalized pension act, approved during the special legislative session early last month provides that each person 65 or older who has lived in the state five years or more and has no means of support, is eligible to receive $35 a month, including income from all other sources.

This does not mean that every elderly person will receive a $35 check from the county in which he resides. Deductions will be made for free rent, free lodging, state income and the payment of insurance premiums by responsible relatives.

But it does mean that the average monthly pension will jump from $23 to around $30 a month.

Method of Finance
The pension will be financed by the federal, state and county governments, with $15 available for each case from federal funds and the state and county sharing the remainder equally.

The state department of social welfare, depending upon county boards of supervisors and welfare departments for the administration of the act and the distribution of pension payments, has notified county officials that in each case the total amount of income plus the security aid must equal $35. In filing notices of increases and new applications, the county authorities must give the source and amount of income deducted from the $35.

Certain Deductions
If aged persons receive free rent, the value of the rent shall not be considered as more than $7 for a single person or $10 for a couple. Eligible single persons with free rent will be paid $28; couples, $40.

Similarly, if the home is owned, the rent value will be estimated at $7 or $10. Interest, taxes and other assessments will be prorated on a monthly basis and deducted from the $7 or $10. For example, if a single person owns his home and pays taxes and interest of $5 a month, that amount will be deducted from the $7 rental value and he will be entitled to $2 old age security.

Free board is considered worth $10 a month per person. A single person receiving free board and

114 BOYS GO TO CAMP OSCEOLA ON SATURDAY

With 54 boys registered for camp, Secretary D. H. Tibbals of the Y. M. C. A. today hung out the "busy" signal on registrations for Osceola. The capacity has been filled, says Tibbals, and no more can be taken for this period. Together with the contingents from Anaheim and Orange, there will be 114 boys in the camp, besides 24 leaders, teachers and directors, making this the largest enrollment for any single camp period in the 14 year history of the camp as Osceola. This morning, Boys Secretary H. R. Thomas, of the local Y, accompanied by Harold Lutes, Harry Owings and Bergseter, went up to help with final preparations for receiving the boys, who leave for Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. on Saturday morning at 6:30. Baggage should be delivered at the Y on Friday afternoon or evening, if possible. Local leaders who will supervise the boys, in addition to Tibbals and Thomas, include R. H. McArthur, instructor, and Harold Lutes, Clinton Campbell, Abe Bergseter, Harry Owings and Lloyd Gibbs, each of whom will have charge of a cabin or tent. With the conditions at Osceola nothing less than ideal as to weather and natural beauty, and with a program arranged for the finest sort of recreation and study, Tibbals expressed the opinion today that this will be an outstanding season for the boys, and one that they will long remember. Those who are disappointed in failing to get into this period may have an opportunity later in the season as other groups go in.

Special music for the meeting is to be provided by the winners of the district Christian Endeavor quartet contest, Katherine and Ellen Collins of Anaheim, and Paul and Ed Eisner of Santa Ana who are to compete in the state finals of the contest the latter part of next week.

SMEDLEY CHAPTER OF TOASTMASTERS HOLDS BUSY MEET

With Vice President Eugene Krueger in the chair and with W. N. Cummings as toastmaster of the evening, the members of Smedley Chapter Number One of the Toastmasters Club last night enjoyed a program of unusual variety and interest. The topics discussed covered a wide range and the speakers without exception presented their material in attractive fashion.

The Toastmasters club is taking no vacation this season, but will continue its meetings throughout the summer on the regular schedule.

"More American Progress" was the theme on which B. H. Lawver sounded an optimistic note. He proposed that we change our slogan from "a world is finished" to the pessimist would have it, and make it read "a world is begun." Improvement in business conditions and hope for the future were shown in figures quoted.

Henry Bosch discussed the facts and conditions back of the recent strike of the orange workers and showed how it may be solved.

The monumental portraits of great Americans being carved on Mt. Rushmore in the Black Hills as a national memorial were presented by J. Lee Woods, in his speech on "The Men of the Mountains."

T. E. McLeod spoke on "Improving on Nature," discussing the development of plant breeding, and describing the artificial pollination of dates, pears and other fruits.

H. S. House cleverly discussed words and their origin under the title, "What's In a Word." Such expressions as normalcy, buncombe, comptroller and others came in for interesting information.

First place went to Woods, with his talk on the mountain sculpture, with Henry Bosch in second place. Dr. Perry Davis acted as general critic, while R. Carson Smith checked up as dictionary critic. Rex Hoover, secretary of the new Toastmasters club of Laguna Beach, reported progress in his organization and invited all local Toastmasters to visit the Beach club frequently.

Hold Session Of Brea City Board

BREA, June 18.—A very brief meeting of the city council was held last night, with Mayor W. D. Shaffer, just returned from a two months' visit in Texas and points in the middle west, presiding for the first time.

No business was transacted, the time being entirely taken with outlining for the benefit of the new mayor the matters of business just completed and those immediately in the future.

TRUE DEMOCRACY HELD TO BE GENERAL CHOICE OF AMERICA AS BEST KIND OF GOVERNMENT

True Democracy is still the general choice of Americans, a cross-section of the population indicated last night at the Forum for Political and Economic Education in the Unitarian church, Eighth and Bush streets, when Democracy went unquestioned as dozens of quotations were hurled at speakers representing the Fascist and Communistic theories of government.

Ray Adkinson, county school superintendent, presented the elements which he believes should compose a true Democracy, "this country's still sought-after goal," and was not asked a single question by forum guests who were, in accordance with forum rules, privileged to challenge his statements.

On the other hand, Ernest S. Wooster, deputy county auditor and student of economics, who presented Fascism "without defending it," and Miss Miriam Bonner, director of Los Angeles Workers School, teacher and world traveler, who both presented and defended Communism and spoke freely of the evils in American government, were pelted with questions.

"Constitutional Democracy has not failed because dictatorship may have crept into it for a dictatorship in a Democratic form of government merely makes the government no longer truly Democratic," Adkinson declared. "Under Constitutional Democracy, the weak must be protected as well as the strong so that everyone can express as much happiness as possible. True Democracy would be the best system to carry out the purposes of all the people, for it exists to serve everyone."

There is no true Democracy anywhere today and the old town hall method of government was about as near to a perfect Democracy as anyone has come, he said. Democracy is a protective system of checks and balances by which even the rights of the minority must be reconciled with those of the majority; Democracy reconciles liberty with unity. It is our own personal voice in government even more than desire for efficiency, which makes so many love the Democratic form of control. Mob action or action by "whim" cannot turn their country's established government but try to remodel it along the lines and customs followed by the people," he said. "Psychology of the people is left unaltered and Mussolini's and Hitler's tyranny is not the fault of Fascism but is a personal matter."

He said the American psychology is such that we grow upon such as Fascism because it is not "our kind." Fascism grew up in Italy and Germany because those countries needed strong leadership.

Asked how he justified Mussolini's conquest in Ethiopia, Wooster said: "I didn't even justify our taking the land from the Indians. Fascism is not based upon conquest."

There is no equality of opportunity in the United States and never has been, Miss Bonner said in urging Communism as a remedy. Since this nation's beginning and under Democracy, the wealthy class has ruled with the flag following the dollars and warships following the flag, she said. Communism aims at government control by the masses, not the few. Russia's system is based upon planned production for use of all, according to Miss Bonner. Eventual goal of Communism, she declared, is one hour's work, or less per week by each mature person, with leisure time plentiful for development of social relationships.

"No unemployment exists in Russia," said Miss Bonner. "There is no such thing as the dole for Communism holds that all should work until their age makes them eligible for pension. A constitution is in the offing which will give equal opportunity to women as well as men; universal secret ballot; 7-hour day; free schooling and old age pensions and which will outlaw war except in defense."

Chairman W. H. (Ted) Blanding announced the teachers' tenure law will be "debated" next Wednesday night, H. G. Nelson defending and W. Maxwell Burke, opposing. On July 1, "The Economic Causes of War" will hold the forum interest.

The meeting was a joint meeting of the central committee and Republican assembly with Ted Craig, speaker of the California house of representatives as the chairman of the program. Craig has announced that George Hatfield, lieutenant governor of California is to be at the meeting to sound the keynote of the Republican campaign in California for Landon and Knox.

R. Y. Williams and Nelson T. Edwards, delegates to the Republican national convention are to be speakers and are expected to take an active part in the program, Irwin said.

The meeting probably will be about the day that Roosevelt is nominated at the Democratic convention in Philadelphia, Irwin said, but he is impressed by the fact that people of Orange county and the United States know so well what will happen that he does not feel it will create sufficient interest to interfere with the rally and program.

The present time is sunflower season in Orange county, it was pointed out and every roadside is expected to provide its share of advertising for Landon and the Sunflower state. Sunflowers are to be used as the special decorative feature for the hall.

COUNTY GOP TO OPEN CAMPAIGN NEXT THURSDAY

With the demand for tickets indicating need for a larger meeting place the Orange county Republican jollification and rally to be held Thursday night, June 25, will be in the Santa Ana American Legion hall instead of at the Green Cat cafe, it was announced today by Howard Irwin, of Fullerton, chairman of the Republican County Central committee.

The session will be a joint meeting of the central committee and Republican assembly with Ted Craig, speaker of the California house of representatives as the chairman of the program. Craig has announced that George Hatfield, lieutenant governor of California is to be at the meeting to sound the keynote of the Republican campaign in California for Landon and Knox.

LOUIS-SCHMELING MATCH POSTPONED!

Elks Fight For Tie; LeMon On 'Spot'

By HARRY GRAYSON

LENGTH OF SCHMELING SCRAP DEPENDS ON LOUIS' MOOD

NEW YORK, June 18.—How surprised than the Embalmers if long will Max Schmeling last?

That seems to be the only question in connection with the German's scheduled 15-round engagement with Joe Louis.

The way I see it, the distance of the scrap depends on Louis' mood, and the Negro can in no sense be classed as a young man of many moods when he buckles down to "dressing the boys up," as he calls it.

Schmeling punches just hard enough with his right hand to be too dangerous to carry, and, like Jack Dempsey, Louis is not the type to lug an opponent along even if he believed it safe.

Although Louis never has seen Schmeling in the flesh, he has nothing but utter contempt for the Teuton's ability. Jack Black-burn's opinions are Louis' and the famous old lightweight never considered the Black Uhlan anything more than a slow and awkward second-rater. Louis has studied the pictures of two or three of Schmeling's battles, including the one in which he was stopped by

Max Baer. That alone convinced him that there was no cause for apprehension in a match with the Prussian brawler, particularly after the easy fashion in which he ironed out the Californian.

LOUIS SAYS FOUR ROUNDS

I asked Louis what he thought of Schmeling, while we sat watching "Schoolboy" Rowe and the Dark Angel's favorite Detroit

Tigers subdue the Indians in the American league opener in Cleveland this spring. Coming from him, Louis' reply practically amounted to a speech.

"He can't fight," said the Alabama-born dandy.

I asked Louis at Lakewood if he felt the same way about it.

He nodded his head in the affirmative.

The following afternoon we followed Harry Cooper in the open at Baltusrol, and I asked Louis

how far he thought the battle would go. Smokey Joe denotes ring distance with his fingers.

He put up four.

Schmeling will fall like a broken airplane the first time he leaves an opening, just as have

23 of Louis' 27 previous adversaries. The crash may come in the first heat. I will be more alive.

CHICAGO, June 18.—(UP)—

College athletes from every section of the nation swarmed into Chicago today for the National Collegiate track and field championships and the first major Olympic trial of a widely believed Olympic year. Trials will be conducted tomorrow.

The N. C. A. A. meet is one of four semi-final trials qualifying for the finals in the National Championships, which will be held in New York July 10 and 11.

From this concentration of rising youngsters must come at least

80 per cent of the American team.

Southern California and Ohio

State, which tied in a dual meet a week ago, were favorites for the team title.

"Spot" Townes of Georgia

probably the best high hurdler

in the east and south and Sam

Klopstock, Stanford, western leader, will compete. Other consistent hurdle winners whose performances have neared world records were Phil Cope and Roy Staley, Southern California; Bob Osgood, Michigan's great star, and Dan Caldeymer,

Indiana.

TO LIQUIDATE VISTA SHORES BEACH TRACT

One of the outstanding realty transactions of the season in Southern California was the recent announcement that "Vista Shores" tract, lying between Marguerite and Poppy streets, and extending from the Coast highway to the ocean front at Corona Del Mar, had been taken over by the newly formed Lind-Barnes company for liquidation. C. H. Lind, for many years has been identified with the two leading real estate firms of Southern California, having served as vice president of the W. I. Hollingsworth company, and the Frank Melrose company, of Los Angeles. Guy C. Barnes has been associated with Mr. Lind for most of this period in a executive capacity.

In addition to handling the liquidation of this choice property, the firm will conduct a general real estate and insurance brokerage business in the Newport-Balboa and Los Angeles districts. The new firm predicts an extremely active real estate and building development in this section, and plan to carry on an elaborate publicity campaign throughout Los Angeles, Orange, and Riverside counties to promote the many advantages of residing in the neighborhood.

Build New Office

An attractive new office is just being completed on the tract at the corner of Coast highway and Marguerite. Mr. Lind emphasizes that in liquidating the "Vista Shores" tract, buyers will be able to secure highly restricted building sites with a superb view overlooking the ocean and Newport yacht harbor, with tree-lined concrete streets, sidewalks and curbing installed, at a price which will appeal to the discriminating purchaser. In order to forestall the building of unsightly or poorly constructed homes, all building plans must be approved by a competent architectural jury.

While "Vista Shores" tract will not be formally opened until about June 25, Mr. Lind and Mr. Barnes announce that both can be found at their new office from 10 to 4

BRETT FUNERAL SERVICES HELD THIS MORNING

Funeral services conducted this morning in Winbiger's Mortuary for Mrs. Marian E. Brett, whose death occurred Tuesday in her home, 728 South Lyon street, were attended by many members of Fleet M. E. church in which Mrs. Brett had been active ever since coming to Santa Ana 20 years ago. The Rev. George A. Warner D.D. conducted the services, and one of Mrs. Brett's favorite hymns, "Lead Kindly Light," was sung by Cecilia Pross Willis. Burial followed in Fairhaven cemetery.

Relatives and friends in attendance included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parrow and son, Miss Clara Hicks and Dr. and Mrs. McAlpin of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Peo and family of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Brett's son, Ralph Brett with James and Janet, of Oakland, with the one surviving sister, Dr. Evalene Peo of this city.

Mrs. Brett, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Peo, was born in New York in 1859, but the family went to Iowa in 1885, and her marriage occurred in that state where she had been a teacher for a number of years in the public schools. She was widowed early in life and of her three children only the one son, Ralph Brett of Oakland, survives her. She leaves also three nieces, Mrs. Walter Bell of Sioux City, Mrs. Fay Myers of Ames, Iowa, and Mrs. Marian Chapin, her namesake, of Winifred, South Dak., and two nephews, Harry L. Peo of Los Angeles and Walter Perkins of South Dakota, in addition to her sister and brother, Dr. Evalene Peo of this city, and C. J. Peo of Des Moines.

In addition to her church activities, she was prominent in Tustin W.C.T.U. and in Woman's club of Santa Ana.

At 10 o'clock daily to consult with builders and brokers, in order that they may acquaint themselves with the sales program to be conducted by Lind-Barnes company, and to learn of the special inducements being offered to secure their active co-operation.

150 GRADUATES GET DEGREES FROM JAYSEE

Graduating sophomores at Santa Ana junior college were addressed this afternoon at commencement exercises by Dr. J. E. Boodin, chairman of the department of philosophy at the University of California at Los Angeles. He spoke on "The Man's Place in the Universe." The activities are scheduled for 4 p. m. at Birch park in Santa Ana.

With a musical program arranged by Miss Myrtle Martin and Leonard Auer of the college music department, the graduating class filed on the platform while the orchestra played the "Coronation March" by Meyerbeer and the "Light Cavalry" by T. von Suppe for the commencement march.

Colburn's "A Tiny Seed Became a Shrine" was presented by the women's chorus of the college under the direction of Miss Martin. Dr. Boodin, the speaker, has written such books as "A Realistic Universe," "God and Creation," and "The Three Interpretations of the Universe" which came off the press last autumn.

With 58 former graduates of Santa Ana high school among them, 122 graduating sophomores at Santa Ana junior college received the degree of associate of arts this afternoon. At the same time secretarial certificates were awarded to 14 former local students. Exactly 150 students in all took part in the graduation activities.

Following Santa Ana in the number of graduates are 26 students from high schools outside Orange county. West Virginia was the farthest point east reached by Victoria, B. C., the only out of the United States city. There are also two secretarial students.

Tustin Union high school leads the county high schools with 10 in the division of associate of arts and four in the secretarial group. They are pressed by nine Huntington Beach students for the major diploma and one in the minor division.

Anaheim Union high school had seven former students and one in the secretarial course. From Orange there are eight with five receiving the associate of arts and three the secretarial certificate. Garden Grove graduated two in the former and two in the latter. Four students from Newport Harbor were honored with the A. A. degree and one in the secretarial degree. One student graduated who came from Fullerton union high school.

BREAKFASTERS HOLD PROGRAM THIS MORNING

Featured by a highly entertaining program, the weekly meeting of the Santa Ana Breakfast club this morning in James cafe presented four acts. About 50 members were present.

First number on the program was staged by Yvonne Mae Johnson and Madea Faye Johnson, the Two Oklahoma Sisters, who sang two-part harmony in straight and yodeling numbers.

Le Neve Kimball, songstress, was warmly received by the Breakfasters, who enjoyed two vocal numbers by the singer. Madeline Paxton, accordionist, contributed two selections to the program, and was heartily applauded for her fine technique.

The highlight of the entertainment program came when Floyd Stewart presented his spectacular fire-eating act, swallowing lighted gasoline fumes and blowing the flames from his mouth. He even "ate" the fire from a blow torch.

New members introduced at the meeting included Supervisor William C. Jerome, Joe Wilson, Dave Wettlin and Thomas Letto. Honorary members of the club are Ed Marble, music leader, C. F. Skirvin and Kenneth Adams.

President Edward W. Cochems announced that initiation for a large group of new members will be held in the near future. The club also is planning to stage another big street breakfast before long.

This morning the resignation of Edgar Lentz as secretary of the club was accepted with regret. Lentz will continue as a member of the club, but said he does not have time for the secretarial duties. Pete Busker was named secretary to replace Lentz.

RATTLESNAKE CLUB FORMED
WEAVERVILLE, Cal. (UP)—H. M. Weaver, entertained 15 of his pupils at a dinner which featured rattlesnakes, killed, fried and served by himself. The guests organized a rattlesnake club and will have an annual rattlesnake dinner hereafter.

JIMMY FIDLER — in — HOLLYWOOD

HOLLYWOOD—Settin' Around (RKO-Radio): This is the "big business lot;" bankers have installed so much efficiency that half the employees live in constant dread of their jobs. Half a dozen studio cops within two dozen blocks will pounce on a visitor and demand to see his pass. Cops here are not smiling and courteous, as at 20th Century-Fox.

Met Gene Raymond just inside the studio gates, as usual without a hair out of place. He is a big, husky chap; wonder why the studio never casts him in a role for which he would dirty his face and muss his hair? Men would like him better for it. Raymond's blonde hair, by the way, turns shades lighter in summer; California sunshine does that to non-hat wearers. Sometimes the bleaching makes difficult the matching of picture scenes photographed weeks apart.

Barbara Stanwyck and Raymond were working in "Marry the Girl" when I arrived on that set minutes later. "Babs" has won for herself the title, "Most popular gal on the RKO lot." The picture was in its final day, and each member of the cast and crew had been gilded by Miss Stanwyck; everything from wrist watches to fountain pens. She concludes every studio association just that way. This time the company returned the favor and Barbara received an electric stove and electric coffee percolator for her dressing room. Better still, she was presented with a phonograph record of the voices of the entire company, all of whom expressed their sincere regard for Miss Stanwyck. She played the record for me, and tears came to her eyes. It is the finest tribute I have ever heard from company to star; a memoir money could never buy.

Ned Sparks and Helen Broderick dish out the laughs in this picture. "Two cold pans shoo' nuff," said Raymond. "One on each side would freeze a brasserie bachelier." Helen calls stoney faced Sparks "Chief Laughing Boy." "If ever he cracks a smile," Helen bantered, "it'll split both his cheeks!"

On the "M'liss" set Anne Shirley was being directed by George Nichols. There's a beautiful association; not love because he is married and has a child almost as old as Shirley. When Anne was ten years of age, Nichols was a second assistant director. He saw her enact a dramatic bit in a stage play. "When I become a director" (notice he did not say "if," he said "when") He is that kind of a man," he told his wife, "that girl will be in my first picture."

Five years passed and one day Nichols won his director's job. His first picture was "Finishing School" and in the cast was Anne Shirley. His next was "Anne of Green Gables" and Miss Shirley played the title role. He has since directed every picture in which she has appeared except one. That was "Steamboat 'Round the Bend," the Will Rogers picture for which she was loaned to another studio. Nichols calls Anne "star," she calls him "her director."

CITRUS FRUITS FREIGHT RATES MAY CONTINUE

The Interstate Commerce commission has approved the publication on 10 days' notice of extension to June 30, 1937 of the $1.43 per hundred emergency freight rate on California and Arizona citrus fruits, it was announced following yesterday's meeting of the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

It is expected that publication will follow within the next few days. The application of the industry for a permanent rate lower than this is still receiving the consideration of the railroads. The eastern fruit trade knows about and appreciate the regulation of shipments of California oranges, Dave Bell, manager of the L. V. W. Brown Estate, Riverside, reported on his return from a tour of United States and Canadian markets. "Our marketing agreement has given the trade increased confidence in handling our fruit and has meant additional money in our growers' pockets," Bell told the directors of the Exchange, through which his association's fruit is marketed.

He expressed his personal appreciation to T. W. Powell, sales manager, for the manner in which the navel deal was handled this season. "We must ship only California navel oranges that will give consumer satisfaction if we are going to stay in business and meet the competition facing us," said Bell. "I am more impressed each trip I make with the ability and loyalty of the Exchange sales force in the markets. Whoever hires them and develops them is doing a good job," stated Bell, who was an independent shipper for many years before joining the Exchange. C. P. Wilson, assistant general manager of the products department of the Exchange, recently returned from an extended sales trip to England, reports increasing business on orange and lemon products in Great Britain and Europe. An additional salesman for the California Fruit Growers Exchange, Ltd. of London has been employed to cover that foreign territory for Exchange brands of products.

"How is the Citrus Market today?"

The Exchange knows — quickly, accurately, always.
Thus it distributes and sells to best advantage

DURING its forty-three years of operation, the Exchange has developed an unrivaled sales and market-news-gathering organization.

Salesmen working only for the Exchange are located in 58 of the chief consuming centers of the world. Their success is determined only by the results they get for the growers.

These market centers are in constant communication with the Los Angeles office by telegraph, teletype and cable. Teletype again flashes this up-to-the-minute information to the 26 district exchanges, who pass it on to over 200 association managers.

Thus the Exchange knows the market fully. It translates its information quickly into increased or diminished supplies to the market concerned.

Without this service the Exchange could not sustain its record of maximum returns to three-fourths of the California-Arizona citrus industry. Including Sunkist advertising, the cost of all Exchange services compares favorably with the marketing cost alone of any other agency.

Property Owners Ask Opening Of West First Street

CITY PLANNERS PLAN HEARING AT NEXT MEET

Owners of property on West First street who petitioned the city planning commission this week, asking the opening of the street on both sides, to business between Ross and Parton streets, are to be contacted by the commissioners before their next meeting to determine whether or not all are agreeable to the proposal and whether such opening would be to the best interests of the city.

Action on the petition was deferred for two weeks to give the commissioners time to study the situation.

"The why" of vacant stores in Santa Ana business area was discussed at commission meeting, Chairman C. E. Walker and Commissioner E. D. Yost stating lax enforcement of the zoning ordinances on the part of former planning bodies, in their opinion, resulted in location of small stores in residential neighborhoods. If it had not been for the laxness, they said, the stores would now be in the downtown area. Secretary W. B. Martin said some of stores were vacant because the rental rate probably is too high.

Favoring West Fourth street opening, Commissioner Yost declared such opening would create a "second Santa Ana boulevard into the city." Secretary Martin presented a photograph of a two-family apartment house, on behalf of Marie Goddard. It was the commission's opinion that such a building would be a worthy improvement at its proposed location, northeast corner of Louise and Washington. Commissioner Bressler suggested a detail map of property along Flower from Washington to state highway be secured from the city engineer for study purposes in connection with proposed Flower opening.

J. W. Gardner, La Habra ranch hand, today was seeking judgment for $3542.50 damages against his former employer, Luther Lindauer, La Habra rancher and gravel dealer, at a trial before Superior Judge H. G. ## BOYS PLANNING TRIP BY TRUCK TO NORTHWEST

An opportunity for 32 Orange county boys to take a tour of the Pacific coast as far north as Victoria, B. C., will be offered in August, it was announced today by Harrison E. White, Orange county Boy Scout executive.

Boys who go on the trip must be 14 years of age or older. They will leave Orange county on August 12 and will be gone two weeks and three days. Parents who are interested in having their boys take the trip were asked to contact White at Scout headquarters in the Spurgeon building, Santa Ana.

Entire cost for the trip per boy will be $37.50, White announced, including transportation, food, and all expenses. The boys will travel in a specially prepared truck, and will have an opportunity to see the entire Pacific coast.

The party will live off the land, as it travels. In other words, the members will do their own cooking, purchasing fresh foods from farms along the way.

The group will travel to Victoria, B. C., via the Redwood highway, San Francisco, and other points. The return trip will be through Mt. Ranier National park, the Columbia River highway, the great Bonneville dam, Crater Lake, Sacramento and home. The boys will have an opportunity to see the extensive fishing operations in the Columbia river, logging and lumbering, the big salmon festival staged by Indians in Washington the latter part of August, and other interesting sights.

MANAGER SAYS SCHOOLBOYS IN ORANGE GROVES TO KEEP JOBS

Declaring that the high school and junior college boys who now are picking oranges will not be laid off when the current strike situation is cleared up, J. A. Prizer, manager of the Placentia Orange Growers association, today made a public announcement correcting what he said was an erroneous impression on the matter.

His letter to The Register explaining the position of the packing house follows:

"There seems to be an impression around and rumors being circulated that high school and Junior college boys now picking oranges will be laid off when the present strike situation is cleared up, nothing could be farther from the truth. All these boys who wish to continue working will be employed as long as they wish to continue work and there are oranges to pick. They are not strike breakers hired for that purpose but are men who are helping out the citrus growers, their fathers and a great industry in an emergency.

"When this emergency is over—and thanks to these men it seems to be rapidly clearing up—we will continue them in the jobs they now hold. We are finding that the American boys and men can pick oranges as well as their fathers did some thirty years ago and as well as any other pickers we have had in recent years."

TIRE TEST IS DRIVER TEST

TOLEDO, (UPI)—Although L. A. Werne's party drove 1000 miles a day, it required six months to reach Toledo from Arizona. This is the explanation: Werne, with three sets of drivers and five cars, was making a 400,000-mile test for tires.

HOME-COMING FOR BABES IS HAPPY EVENT

"Life Begins at Forty" according to a prominent writer of recent vogue. But a lively chorus of baby voices was raised in dissent the other day at the Whitney Maternity home, 705 Kilson Drive, where little tots from three weeks to six or seven years of age, indicated that life had begun with joyousness at the very first breath drawn in the home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Whitney were hosts Tuesday at the first homecoming of babies born in the home during the decade since its establishment in Santa Ana. Close to 300 babies have seen the light of day there, and the Whitneys were able to secure the present ad-resses of some 125 of the families represented.

Hours indicated were from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and there was an unending stream of mothers and babies throughout the entire day. The hosts had arranged with the Stork studios, a Los Angeles concern specializing in infant photography, for special photographs during the day, and each child guest will receive a picture taken as a memento of the occasion. Motion pictures were taken also during the hours when the greatest number of young visitors arrived.

No record was kept of the oldest child present, but honors for being the youngest went to small James Azlin, three-weeks-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Parke Azlin of Huntington Beach.

Police News

FATHER'S DAY, JUNE 21ST

KING for a DAY

He's the greatest "unsung hero" the world has ever known. He's won more battles and carries more scars than a veteran of the wars.

Outside . . . the world knows him as a two fistful fighter . . . bucking the powers of business . . . winning maybe . . . losing maybe . . . but always in the thick of the fray.

But at home . . . his tenderness enfolds you . . . protects you . . . stands like a shield between you and the hurts of the world. And though sometimes, in his bewilderment at youth of today, he seems a little unreasonable . . . on this you can bet your bottom dollar . . . the mainspring of his life is YOUR happiness.

Sunday is HIS day. Make it a day he'll long remember. Let him undo his collar . . . spill ashes on the best rug . . . prop his feet on the new chair . . .

And let him know that you think he's just about the swellest Dad ANYBODY ever had.

Formal Dance Provides Delightful Evening
For Junior Set

Those charming belles and gallant young bucks of an oncoming generation, whose social affairs can occasionally go from the realm of childhood into the more sedate manners of their elders, had the pleasure of attending one of these more formal affairs a few evenings ago when Forrest Menzie Jr., was host at a dancing party complimenting a talented young cousin.

This honor guest was little Miss Betty Jean Hainey, a rising young feature player of the silver screen, whose most recent film appearance in this city was with Jane Withers in "Little Miss Nobody." She has appeared with Jackie Cooper and various child stars and is at present working with Shirley Temple in a picture soon to be released.

Miss Betty Jean and her brother, Donald Hainey, Glenna Jean Deardorff, Doris Lorraine Faupel and Thomas Carl Sutton were dinner guests of Forrest Jr., in his home, 422 Harwood place, in advance of the dancing party which was held in the Green Cat. At the same time Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Menzie were dinner hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hainey and Mrs. Marie Hainey, parents and grandparents of the visiting sister and brother, and Mrs. Maude Burke, Mr. Menzie's sister, all of Hollywood.

The table for the young people was entirely apart from that arranged for the adult group, and had its own charming appointments of pantries and candies.

In the Green Cat where banquet room and lounge were reserved for the party guests, the scene was one of joyous color. The young girls, in their smart little party frocks, and their escorts, some in faultless tuxedos but the majority in white linen or palm beach suits, approached the affair with dignity and poise. The Sargent orchestra provided dance music, and ballroom dancing was interrupted from time to time by impromptu feature numbers.

These included a tap dance by Thomas Carl Sutton; a ballet flower dance by Marguerite Alvord; a duo number by Betty Jean Deardorff and Katherine Hambricht; a ballet by Margie Fulewider and Jack Foust, and two songs by the party honoree, Betty Jean Hainey with her father playing banjo accompaniment.

Mr. and Mrs. Menzie and their house guests were joined by many of the parents of the young people, who lingered to enjoy the pretty sight. Late in the evening, with the arrival of Miss Esen Burke, with whom the majority of the young guests take dancing lessons, a grand march was formed to the lounge where refreshments were served.

Mrs. C. M. Deardorff, one of the many friends who had sent flowers for the occasion, had arranged the tables with their blossoms and tapers in flower colors. In addition to the refreshment menu punch was served throughout the evening, with Miss Glenna Jean Titchenal presiding at the punch bowl.

Dinner Guests
Spend Evening
In Bridge Play

It was a delightful hospitality extended last night by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. George, who opened their home at 2433 North Park boulevard, for a dinner and contract event.

In the dining room where guests found places at the dinner hour, the hostess maintained an all-white decorative scheme, which was very effective with the appointments of the room. Tables were spread with gleaming white linens and each had its bowl of snowy flowers. More color was introduced in the drawing room where a brilliant note was established by handsome American Beauty roses. These had been sent to Mrs. George yesterday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. George S. Briggs.

In contract play which followed the dinner hour, men of the party seemed to excel in the game, for Messrs. George S. Briggs, Robert G. Tuthill, Howard Timmons and Harry L. Hanson took prizes at their separate tables, with only two of the feminine guests, Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon and Mrs. Benjamin J. MacMullen, scoring.

Mr. and Mrs. George included in their list of guests, Messrs. Lawrence Bemis, Lester Carlen, Lloyd Chenoweth, H. T. Dunning, Harry L. Hanson, James K. Hermon, James Irvine, Benjamin J. MacMullen, Robert Mize, R. E. Moore, Howard Timmons, Robert G. Tuthill, Emrys D. White, Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon and Mrs. Will A. Flood.

Meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Bruce Harding, 305 South Tustin avenue, bridge club members took the opportunity to stage a surprise layette shower for Mrs. William Jerome Jr.

Present were Mrs. Jerome, Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. Hardy and Mesdames Woodrow Barnett, Stanley Norton, George Bradley, the hostess and Miss Charlene Lowell.

NEW GLY-CAS AT McCOY DRUG CO. GREATEST EVER

Hundreds of Santa Ana Residents Laud Gly-Cas as Being Without an Equal; Mrs. Cashdollar Given New Health.

Possibly never before has any medicine received such widespread and sincere praise as is now being accorded this new herbal remedy, Gly-Cas. All over

MRS. C. A. CASHDOLLAR

Santa Ana and this entire section hundreds now know from actual experience that Gly-Cas is no more like ordinary medicines than day is like night.

Read what Mrs. C. A. Cashdollar, 1221 East St. Andrew Ave., Santa Ana, highly respected lady of this city, who has lived here for the past fifteen years, said recently in lauding this new remedy to the McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, this city:

"I did not know there was such a medicine discovered as this new Gly-Cas," said Mrs. Cashdollar. "For ten years I had been habitually constipated, my entire system filled with poisons and my stomach was badly affected. Foods I ate would sour, bloated after every meal and the attacks of indigestion that would come on me were unbearable. I would become so short of breath I would nearly smother and often have had to sit up in bed to be able to breathe at all. My kidneys gave me trouble, too, and dizzy spells were entirely too frequent. It was impossible for me to get a good night's sleep. It seemed and my entire system seemed to be gradually wearing out. I should have been in bed many days but I kept going even if it was with a great effort. Medicine of every known kind failed in my case it seemed and I was dreadfully discouraged until I was finally persuaded to try Gly-Cas. It was entirely different from anything I had ever taken before. It gave me results."

"If it had not been for Gly-Cas I would yet be suffering terribly," continued Mrs. Cashdollar. "By the time I had taken my first few doses I knew I had found the one REAL medicine of them all. Those poisons were quickly eliminated and in a most natural way. My stomach and bowels are now regulated and function properly. I am rapidly regaining my strength and am again able to do my work with ease. My appetite is fast returning, nerves are quieted, eat and sleep good and really enjoy the best health I have had in many years. Gly-Cas has certainly proven its merit beyond all doubt and I feel it my duty to tell others about such a remarkable remedy so they, too, may regain their health as I have mine."

Gly-Cas is sold by McCoy Drug Co., 108 West Fourth Street, and by leading druggists in surrounding towns.

and June Winbiger of the Christian church played "School Colors" as a piano duet. Songs were rendered by the Spanish Sunday school students under the direction of Miss Idabelle Durgan. A drill was given by members of the Presbyterian Junior department, Bobby Hobbs, Arthur Wood, Willard Handley, Charles Grow, Jack Erickson, Stanley Ockles, Dean Frevert, Lois Milbrat, Barbara Smith, Carol Milbrat, Jean Pierce and Geraldine Lovell.

Mrs. Floy Wilbur, general superintendent of the Bible school, introduced the teachers, Mrs. Esther Terry Scrivens intermediate superintendent; Mrs. Lawrence Archibald, assistant; Mrs. C. G. Bonbrake, superintendent of the Junior department; Mrs. Jennie Connor and Mrs. Frank Hallman, assistants; Mrs. Clara Vestal, superintendent of the primary department; Miss Bernice Vestal, assistant; Mrs. Earl Smith, beginner's department; Miss Nancy Rose Wolf, assistant.

To conclude the program the Boys' Glee club of the Mennonite church gave two numbers. Those singing were Robert Gist, Max Pentecost, Weaver Hesse, Andrew Pentecost, Orval Hatfield and Richard Schultz. They were directed by John Dams.

MEN'S CLUB TOLD OF EUROPEAN TRIP

ORANGE, June 18.—Russell Rohrs of Santa Ana was the speaker at a meeting of the Men's club of St. John's Lutheran church Tuesday night, when he showed motion pictures taken on a trip to Europe and the Orient. The talk followed a 6:30 o'clock dinner served in Walker Memorial hall.

Rohrs stated that tourists in Europe will find conditions very pleasant if they mind their own business and do not discuss the governments of the countries in which they are visiting. Pictures included many taken in the Orient. He stated that he found the Japanese to be among the most hospitable people.

Alfred Huhn, vice president, presided. The resignation of the president, Orville Veeh, was accepted with regrets and Lorenz Batterman was elected to take his place on the executive board. An organization meeting of the board is to be held shortly, when a new president will be selected.

Tentative plans were made for an outing which will take the place of the July meeting. A committee is to be appointed to make arrangements for the event.

THE TINY MITES
Story by HAI COCHRAN Illustrations by GEORGE SCARBO

"Is everybody quite all right?" yelled Scouty, when he shook his fright. "That was a sixpoint landing. Every Tiny was a point."

"Our kite's a wreck. I can see that. All of the woodwork is smashed flat. My tumble made me think that I would be knocked out of joint."

"Well, I don't know about the rest, but I'm all right. I did my best to catch hold of some branches," little Goldy loudly cried.

"And Dotty, too, is safe and sound. I saw her flop around and round and when she finally stopped her fall, she was right by my side."

Then came wee Duncy's voice. "Hey, there. I am way up here in the air. I grabbed the highest branches and they broke my sudden drop."

"No longer do I wish to soar. I'm glad our box kite trip is over. I s'pose this place is just as good as any place to stop."

Then they all climbed down to the ground and stood together, looking "round." "I think," exclaimed fair Dotty, "we have reason for a huff."

"There's not a single soul in sight. We may be in an awful plight. Somebody else can ride again, but I have had enough."

"The only thing for us to do is hike around. Before we're through, we'll know what this spot's all about." And then she added, "Say!"

"There are some folks here, after all. Two dressed-up men, not very tall, just hopped out from behind a tree. They're heading right this way."

"We'll stick together," Scouty cried. "All of you stand right by my side. If we are going to have to fight, we may as well be set."

Then Goldy laughed like everything. Said she, "No trouble will they bring. Why, they have cork guns in their hands. They're toy soldiers, I'll bet."

New Parking Measure Adopted By Laguna Council

CONFERENCE ON PIER PLANNED BY COMMITTEE

LAGUNA BEACH, June 18.—An emergency clause to the city's traffic ordinance governing parking zones was given its final reading by the city council last night, making it possible for the council to establish zones by resolution instead of the passage of ordinances. The new clause in the ordinance becomes effective tomorrow, according to City Attorney Milburn G. Harvey.

A resolution, passed in answer to a petition signed by representatives of business firms on Coast boulevard seeking one hour parking limits, establishes zones throughout the downtown area. Some of the zones limit parking to 10 minutes, others to one hour and still others to an hour and a half.

A communication from the Laguna Beach Business and Professional Women's Club was read and was supported by an oral address by Daisy Aitken, representing the club, which bespeaks council aid and pledged co-operation in the beautification of the city.

The life saving committee of the local Red Cross chapter, after conducting tests as to fitness, rated as worthy of appointment as life guards at the beach, Day Tawney and Norman Brown, inasmuch as two vacancies existed on the life guard force, one being immediately caused by resignation of F. J. Schwankowsky Jr., the report of the committee was accepted, and, on motion of Councilman Thomas F. Cummings, Tawney and Brown were appointed life guards.

The vexed question of dismantling, removing, or destroying the old pier, long subject of litigation, arose again, with the oral submission by Bert L. Foerschler, of Laguna Beach, of a proposition to dismantle the pier, in return for such material as he might be able to salvage during his operations. Foerschler was invited to meet with a committee composed of City Engineer Arthur F. Stead, City Attorney Harvey, and Councilman Randolph H. Bainbridge, at which session the matter will be sifted, with report to come to next meeting of the council as a whole.

Deeds were received from a dozen property owners, granting easements, rights of way, and waivers, in connection with improvements now under way in the Gleneyre and Ramona Alley improvement projects.

The long session marked the return of Councilman Howard G. Heisler, who has been away several weeks on leave of absence.

BUSHMAN TO CONTINUE AS FIRE CHIEF OF BEACH CITY

LAGUNA BEACH, June 18.—Peter J. Bushman will continue as fire chief of Laguna Beach, it was announced at last night's meeting of the city council. Bushman having reconsidered his previous decision to resign.

It was brought out that duplication of the offices of fire chief and fire marshal was the occasion of "tremendous grief," as Chief Bushman put it. Most potent source of trouble, it seemed, was the lot burning work saddled upon the fire department, which work, in addition to increasing the labors of the force, was prone to breed disputes between lot-owners and those entrusted with the duty of burning over weeded lots in the interests of public safety.

One angle of the discussion was brought out by Councilman Charles Jester, commissioner of fire and police, who, referring to the book of ordinance, pointed out that unpaid and legally due fees aggregating nearly $10,000 were due various members of the fire department in the form of overpayment, remuneration for fires attended, and other claims, to enforce collection of which no attempt has been made. It was decided to increase the sum allotted for the use of the fire department from the existing monthly stipend of $150 to $200 monthly.

Later in the evening, an ordinance was passed to third reading, creating the office of fire marshal, and vesting the duties of the newly-created office in the chief of police, the members of the police force acting as deputy marshals. Bushman's decision to carry on was the subject of felicitation by Councilman L. F. Malloy, Thomas A. Cummings, Charles Jester, Randolph Bainbridge and Howard G. Heisler.

RUNAWAY BRIDE

CHAPTER 1A

HALF an hour later a slim girl in a rust frock and cape, banded with dark fur, was ushered into Wenda Andrews' room. Wenda, standing before the mirror, in a green tulle frock that resembled the white tulle one that was spread out on Marcia's bed, gave an audible gasp.

"Marcia, what in the world are you doing running around foot-loose?" As the rust-clad figure sank wearily into a chair, she grew more puzzled. "Marcia, honey, have you forgotten that this is your wedding night? The handsome, debonaire Robert is giving you his name."

Marcia motioned to the green frock. "Take it off, Wenda. You won't be wearing it. There isn't going to be a wedding."

"Are you crazy? Is it a quarrel?"

"No, we'll still be concerned about each other's health when we meet. We just aren't marrying each other. Bob's love is parked around in too many places. But he was going to hang his hat in my house. That's all."

Wenda glanced at the cloisonne clock on the dressing table and pressed a button. "Quick, hot tea, lots of it," she told the maid. "Tell Carl to have the car ready." Then she turned back to Marcia and smiled. "Want to tell me about it?"

Marcia nodded. She made the story brief but complete. "—so the wedding's off and you have to go over to the house and tell my family. Tell them I'll call tomorrow. I can't—go back."

"Men are queer," Wenda mused. "Drink your tea, Marcia. It'll warm you up. Men do utterly inconsequential things that look mountainous. They all like to think they are Don Juans. Maybe he was being dramatic. Your wedding's planned and he chose you. That's something."

"Something—but not everything. That's why I'm not going on, Wenda. He might not be willing to leave his old girls behind him."

"Maybe you're right—but I'm not sure." Wenda looked down at the green swirls of tulle. "I've always wanted to be a maid of honor. I've qualified as a bridesmaid seven times, but that's as near to the altar as I can get. Never an advanced position! But if the wedding's off—what shall I tell your mother?" She reached for a long white cape, thought again, and began to unfasten her frock.

"That I'll get in touch with her tomorrow, and I'm sorry."

"You'll wait here for me? Promise?"

"I'll wait. And don't take off your dress. Go as you are."

Wenda put her arms around the girl in the chair. "Cry, Marcia. It will help." Then she was gone.

FOR the second time that afternoon Marcia was alone in a with wheels and hoops and roller skates. She had taken a ride with him in a painted boat, on the little lake where the sailors took their girls when the boats came in. She must stop being a sentimental idiot! She had better see if her money was in her bag. Her father had given her a roll of bills that morning. "To buy yourself some beads and gloves in Paris—" he had said. Yes, here they were. Her hand touched something firm and smooth. Her passport. Two passports. Bob's was with hers.

SUDDENLY her mind began to function. She would go to Europe! She would sail alone! Alone at midnight, in the bridal suite.

"Pier Number 59, North River," she told the driver, one eye on the sapphire-studded watch on her slender wrist. "Hurry! The ship sails at 12!"

"But, lady, why didn't you say so?" the cab driver ejaculated, and suddenly sent the loitering car flying across town.

Marcia sat tense, holding the wrist with the watch, so she could tell the time. Now they had turned into the street along the docks—she could smell the water—could catch the tag ends of the day's odors from the fish markets. Her pier—the lighted ship beyond. "Maybe we're too late. It's 12," the driver warned her.

Marcia pressed a bill into his hand and ran across the floor to the elevator. There was one passenger on it, a tall young man whose face was browned as though he had been in the sun and wind for a long time.

Up, up, up. Slowly. Oh, why did all elevators that carried people to the floor that was on a level with the gangplank proceed so calmly? It stopped. She got off and began to run. So did the young man. They could hear the waves of laughter and chatter on the pier. Chains were beginning to rattle as they grew nearer to the boat.

"Gangway!" the man called, and reached out a hand to her. Laughing, she took it, and followed his broad shoulders as he cleared a passage through the crowd. They were on the ship!

"Your baggage, Madame, Monsieur?" a steward asked.

"It came on earlier," Marcia answered. She turned to thank the young man with the tanned face, but he had tipped his hat and disappeared.

She gave the number of her cabin to an attendant. "Monsieur?" His eyes followed the man.

"I'm alone," Marcia answered, and quite suddenly a wave of longing engulfed her—a wave so fierce that it swept away all her resolutions, dissolved her courage, tore down her pride. She wanted Bob! Wanted him any way she could get him! And she had run away from him! She turned back to the gangplank. It was gone. The ship was moving slowly, quietly—

His body was removed to McAnish and Suters funeral chapel, Fullerton, where an inquest is pending, according to coroner Earl Abbey. The inquest awaits recovery of the other victims of the accident. Gonzalez was the twenty-sixth person killed in traffic on Orange county highways this year.

While those in the accident reported a tire which blew out caused the car to overturn, a sheriff's office investigation report said the car was speeding at the time. Others involved in the accident were Lawrence Castro, 22, jaw fracture and lacerated scalp; Consuelo Nieto, severe face lacerations and pavement burns; Adam Sepulveda, severe bruises and face cuts, and George Decerra, probable fractured collar-bone, fractured thumb, and bruises. All were removed to county hospital and given first aid treatment. All were residents of Corona.

FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 18.—(UP)—The stock market today made a slow advance into new high ground since April 17 under the leadership of railroad shares.

Steel firms for a time after the recession yesterday in fear of a wage increase but later eased to small extent. Steel, iron, tin, tobacco, alcohol, and communications advanced fractions to a point. Farm issues were dull with prices steady to firm. Utilities were little changed.

Motor shares sagged on profit-taking after early strength, but motor equipment added to recent gains under lead of Kelsey-Hayes issues.

Swearingin rails made the widest gains. Allegany corporation issues gained a point or more while issues of Pere Marquette and Nickel Plate were 2 1/2 points or more. Atchafalaya touched 79 for a gain of 3 1/2 points before encountering resistance. Fractional gains were noted in New York Central, Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Southern Railway, and Pennsylvania.

Today's Guest Editorial

By
Rev. Arthur T. Hobson, Minister, Methodist Church of Orange and President Ministerial Union of Orange.

The "Guest Editor" selects his own subject matter and it may or may not agree with the opinions of the publisher. The Register will invite and publish daily a "guest editorial" by some prominent, practical Orange county citizen.

LOCAL OPTION

Liberty is the dream of every true American. For it our fathers fought and voted, and today we fight for the priceless heritage of freedom, for a heritage it is and priceless it is. But, as in other parts of the world liberty in some degree is a thing of the past, so may the United States of America come to the same condition.

I say may, perhaps I should say has, for the right of the citizens of California to deal directly with the liquor traffic has been taken away. We have allowed the wets to take away our right to handle the situation the way we choose. The sacred right of the people to determine where and when and how liquor for beverage uses shall be disposed is entirely in the hands of a small board.

The time has come when the right to vote on the subject should be back in the hands of the electorate, therefore, it is incumbent upon every citizen, either wet or dry, to sign the "Local Option Petition," now being circulated throughout the county. One may not be in favor of local option, but no one can be indifferent to any effort that denies him the American right to vote. If one is a believer in a square deal and good sportsmanship, he will sign the petition, and at least allow the dries a chance to express themselves upon the subject.

Orange county has the reputation of being one of the best counties, morally, in the state. This is an enviable reputation that every loyal citizen should wish to maintain, but it cannot be so kept as long as liquor and gambling are permitted to exist by law within its borders. There is no reason why these should exist, for they cannot be defended on any grounds except money, therefore through this column we urge every citizen to take the first step in the come-back to liberty. Sign the local option petition then vote for a dry city and a dry county.

"PROPHETS OF EVIL"

In President Roosevelt's Dallas speech, he says, the "chisellers" and "prophets of evil" are still with us.

Evidently, the President thinks there is nothing to be alarmed about when he is criticizing a man who cannot help but wonder where we are going; when the government is obliged to tax surpluses of corporations and further decreasing the expansion of private employment; when the government is spending over twice as much as it is able to secure by taxation and our tax rates are higher than they have been in any peace time in history; when we are losing our shipping and our foreign trade.

The part we cannot understand is how any man can help being uneasy. If the President cares to call a man, who is trying to analyze the direction we are going, a "prophet of evil," he has that privilege, if he wants to befuddle the issue.

It evidently does not worry the President and he thinks there is no danger of having ten or twelve million people out of work; of increasing the government debt by $15,000,000,000; of violating all the laws of economics by plowing under the cotton; paying the farmers for not producing; telling the people that he is horrified at a sales tax and then putting a tax on the very necessities, such as cotton goods and bread, that go to the working class; telling the public that the efficiency in production does not increase purchasing power of the public; advocating congress to pass laws whether there is reasonable doubt or not as to their constitutionality; refusing to give protection to men who want to work; greatly increasing the imports from farmers of foreign lands, when we are paying our own farmers to be idle. If the President is satisfied with these conditions and thinks there is nothing to be alarmed about, that there is no need of prophesying evil consequences to our future, then, we cannot understand how he can reconcile his conclusions with logic or past history. There certainly is plenty of reason for people to be "prophets of evil," if one reads history correctly.

WHEN THE GOVERNMENT DROPS RELIEF

Statistics were recently released showing great reductions in clients and costs in the administration of relief in New Jersey since the task was turned over several weeks ago to local authorities. Trenton relief rolls, according to dispatches to the New York Times were reduced from 3682 to 1602 cases. The cost of relief in that city simultaneously dropped from more than $100,000 to $30,000 a month. Similar conditions were reported in Camden, where the number of clients has been reduced from 4530 to 2856.

Local authorities cannot afford to be extravagant. Their collections for relief purposes are limited and their expenditures are held up for public inspection more than the outlay by the government. It is easier to expend federal funds for aiding the distressed than it is to expend money which is given directly by the people in the community which is being assisted.

When the old relief set-up was in operation in Santa Ana a certain amount was extracted from the public each year. The public was more or less in constant touch with the workings of the department. Those who were in charge of the relief program, insofar as it was operative at that time, tried and did hold expenditures to a minimum. An accounting of all expenses had to be given to the public once a year. The responsible persons knew the city's chisellers and used means which forced them into self-service.

The operation of relief in Santa Ana since the government took it over has been as good as that in any community. Perhaps it has been better. The relief program here has been good as far as governmental set-ups are concerned. The workers are under the usual unnecessary rulings and red tape that marks governmental activity in any undertaking. The New Jersey reports show what can be done by removal of the government from this type of public service. Locally administered relief with local funds leads to more careful examination of the cases to be helped. There are, over the country, many men who are so accustomed to being on relief that they would actually be surprised to discover that they could get a job if they really tried. Four years of relief work has made the business an institution. It has become a part of the government the same as the department of justice and the agriculture department. People have been in distress since the Pilgrims arrived. We progressed under a system of local relief for the unfortunate. This type of human service should be restored to the localities which are more familiar with the subjects and their habits.

DOCTOR'S FEES

It is quite often conceded that doctors charge more for rendering medical service to the wealthy person than they do to the person in very moderate circumstances. This, on the face of it, seems to be an unethical practice. When, however, it is carefully analyzed, it appears to be justified.

If a doctor, for instance, has a pneumonia patient, who is an obscure individual with practically no connections, and he loses that patient, the doctor is not nearly so likely to be blamed and censured and to have his practice damaged, as he would be if the patient were a prominent wealthy citizen. If a doctor loses a patient who is prominent and wealthy, it is much more likely that the physician is known and the reputation of the doctor would be hurt, even if the doctor is in no way responsible for the death. It is, therefore, hardly fair to condemn the doctor when he charges a higher service fee to the party who, if he loses, might greatly hurt his practice.

Before you condemn the doctor for his fees, think it over!

A GOOD START

The involuntarily reduced fare schedules of the eastern railroads have been in effect only a few days, but the increase in passenger traffic is already encouraging.

At the same time, we see the spectacle of these same railroads massing forces to test the constitutionality of the I. C. C. ruling ordering the lower fares. This is particularly interesting inasmuch as railroads of the west and south resorted to the lower fares two and three years ago, and continue to maintain them and prosper.

At least, it would seem, the railroads ought to give the I. C. C. ruling a fair trial. So far a mighty fine start has been made in stepping up the railroad's payloads.

Day By Day In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1935)

WASHINGTON, June 18.—There appeared in these columns yesterday a statement to the effect that the new Guffey bill, with its price-fixing provisions, was a step in the direction of fascism.

Today there is presented here the testimony of Senator Burton K. Wheeler, chairman of the Interstate Commerce committee of the United States senate, a liberal Democrat, a champion of the masses of consumers and an arch-opponent of monopoly in America. Senator Wheeler discusses all manner of price-fixing thus:

"Consider the implications of ultimate price-fixing for trade and industry by either the government or private groups. It radically changes our form of government. The government would be forced into a system of regimentation of industry that would not only be onerous to the people but might very well be inefficient. Certainly the greatest totalitarian, bureaucratic state the world has ever seen would be the result."

"Price-fixing by private groups will inevitably lead to price-fixing by government. It will be a fascist state in every sense of the word."

Senator Wheeler's remarks were made over the National Broadcasting company's system, entirely apart from any discussion of the Guffey bill, but an examination of the proposed price-fixing by a government agency in the coal industry will reveal that the Montana senator has described price-fixing as a vicious practice no matter where practiced.

"Our American society," he says, "has been based on competition, but the plain truth about it is that lately we have been rendering lip service to the competitive system, and in fact have been getting further away from it all the time. Whether or not we are going to have the competitive system or are going to have price-fixing, not only by industry but by agriculture and labor and every other section of trade and industry, is something the American people must choose while the choice is left open to them."

"At the outset it must be stated that, with the present personnel of the supreme court, we must have a constitutional amendment before we can do anything toward fixing prices for either agriculture or labor."

Senator Wheeler is right. The majority of the supreme court insists that, if the powers of the people are in any way abbreviated, the court itself shall not do the abbreviating but the people yield through whatever rights to the constitution. In this way, the justices who prefer to err on the side of the people by giving the latter a chance to pass on such vital issues as wage-fixing and price-fixing might well be classified by the progressives who look toward the liberal form of government, while the justices who believe in constitutional "judicial construction" might be said to be accepting the theory of an all-powerful state which has powers superior to those of the people.

Senator Wheeler wants the people to pass on such vital issues as wage-fixing and price-fixing might well be classified by the progressives who look toward the liberal form of government, while the justices who believe in constitutional "judicial construction" might be said to be accepting the theory of an all-powerful state which has powers superior to those of the people.

to pass on the issue of price-fixing. He proposes to both parties that they consider this platform:

"We believe that there is inherent in all price-fixing an economic fallacy. Prices, if fixed, are placed at levels so as to protect producers generally, irrespective of their efficiency. They are fixed at levels higher than would result from the free play of competitive forces under the law of supply and demand."

"In our judgment, therefore, price-fixing cannot succeed because it creates and fosters the very things which tend toward depression and economic catastrophe. It tends to destroy the ability of the masses to purchase goods, consume them and return again to the market for more. It tends constantly to increase the lack of balance between producing power on the one hand and consuming and purchasing power on the other."

"The remedy, we believe, is a return to price competition and a strict enforcement of the anti-trust laws."

The senator says the American people should know what they are getting into if price-fixing is introduced as a national policy and he adds that he is not really to believe "that the American people are yet willing to so radically change their form of government."

The importance of Senator Wheeler's speech is that it is a challenge to both political parties. His doctrine is not far different from that of Senator Borah, Republican, who has been attacking monopolistic practices and price-fixing. As a matter of fact, Senator Wheeler's proposals can hardly be accepted without embarrassment by the New Deal administration, because the latter, through the NRA, was willing to suspend the anti-trust laws and has now endorsed the Guffey bill which establishes price-fixing as a government policy in the coal industry.

Governor Landon, the Republican nominee, has, therefore, a real opportunity to take up Senator Wheeler's plea. It is in conformity with the platform generalities adopted at the Cleveland convention that the Kansas governor make the same kind of speech in his campaign as has the Montana senator, or will he be influenced by that section of industry and business which wants price-fixing either by the government or by its own trade bodies so as to attain virtual monopoly through a "stabilized" price that protects the inefficient and gives a large margin of profit to the efficient?

Mr. Wheeler has made a most striking speech on the issue of Fascism versus Americanism because it is really at heart a contest between monopoly and competition. The passage of the Guffey bill will commit the New Deal to the Fascist idea and the proposal to include in the Democratic platform a declaration in favor of amending the constitution to give the federal government power to regulate price in agriculture and industry is the natural sequel to such a move.

The possibility of an outbreak on this issue at the forthcoming platform discussion in Philadelphia would be greatly increased if this were not a year in which the delegates are chosen by the administration itself. For obviously there is a revolt on against fascism among the truly liberal members

After supper ma said to pop, "Actually, Willyum, the more I see of that Bertha Cornhouse the more I congratulate myself that I don't have to see still more of her. Really Willyum she's the shiftest snake in the grass that ever wawked on 2 feet, ma said."

That sounds like a record, pop said, and ma said, "She considers herself a grate charity worker, but if she was really so wonderful she wouldn't need so much help from others. I mean she always and forever has a stack of some kind of tickets to sell, and today was no general exception to the rule. She was handing them all around at the bridge club, and it seemed they were for some concert in aid of the Ethiopian war victims, and when she got around to me I said to her, 'Really Bertha, I flatter myself that I'm as charitably inclined as anybody else, but I have certain principles in these matters, and one of them is that charity begins at home. I feel that there's enough and ample suffering going on at our own front doors without seeking it at the back gates of far away strangers of all hues and shades. I said to her, ma said."

That's always a good answer and very difficult to successfully combat, pop said, and ma said, "Imagine my skeptical surprise when she seemed to agree with me perfectly. I think you're quite rite, Pawleen, she said, and as a matter of fact I have some other tickets rite here for the benefit of our own flood sufferers. Of course they cost 3 dollars apiece while the Ethiopians only cost one dollar, but I know you won't begrudge the extra expense to vindicate your principles. Well naturally there was nothing left for me to do but take a couple of the Ethiopian tickets after all, and later I learned on good authority that she wasn't selling any other tickets at all. Wouldn't you call that the last word in hypocrisy, Willyum? ma said. And what's funny? she said, 'Can't I cawf? pop said, and he got behind the sporting page still making sounds."

Modern Life

IS MADE WORK BETTER THAN THE DOLE?

Is made work better than the dole?

Does the dole sap and made work support the self-respect and morals of the unemployed?

I once thought so.

Theoretically it still seems sound to say so, but careful and sustained observation of the program of made work relief has convinced me that this is not true.

It is still true that a dole does something very deplorable to the inner spirit of men, but that cannot be helped. When the winds of economic disaster blow shut every door of opportunity, and when the individual in question had nothing to do with raising these winds, society must come to bat with relief.

But I am convinced that the elaborate program of work relief has been unwisely planned for the following reasons:

(1) Comparative audits would show, I am sure, that made work relief is fully twice as costly as direct relief, and, when the unemployment situation reaches the staggering proportions it has reached in the United States, it becomes a grave question whether the nation can afford the double cost when it is unnecessary.

(2) I can find no evidence that made work supports the morale of the worker any better than does the dole. I find no light of elation in the eyes of the crews working away on manifestly cooked-up jobs. Their eyes seem to say, "We know we are wards of the nation's mercy."

(3) A made work program creates a dangerous political machine that saps the democratic process of free suffrage.

No. We must conquer unemployment in and through a sweeping forward of the normal economic enterprise of the nation. Democrats and Republicans must buckle down to that job.

"HELP ME"

"Mother, Crandall's want a girl to help in the store mornings. It's just what I want for a summer job."

"That's good. Fine idea. They're good people to work for."

"Miss Maria told me about it and suggested I go there right after lunch and ask for the position."

"Lunch is ready. You don't have to wait a minute."

"I'll change my dress, don't you think?"

"If you like. The one you have on is a very good one, though. It is simple and workmanlike. You wouldn't want to dress differently today from what you will do should you go to work there. But you can do as you please about that, of course. You want to feel, as well as look, your best. Eat a good lunch. That will strengthen your courage."

"You'll come with me, won't you, mother?"

"O. no. I wouldn't do that."

"O. please. I can't go alone."

"Why can't you? All you have to do is to state your errand and answer any questions you are asked. If you are going to go to work you certainly ought to be able to attend to your own business. It would be a poor recommendation for you to have me leading you in by the hand."

"Then I won't go. I just can't. I never did such a thing before. Come to the door with me."

"Not at all. Now go wash your face and freshen yourself up a bit; know that nothing can happen to you. You can do this work to go to get it, and all you have to do is go ask for it. The best way to get over a hard place is to go right at it and lose no time thinking about how you'll feel."

"But I don't know what he will say to me."

"Of course not. How could you? And if you fretted about it for the rest of the day you would not know. He will say something you never thought about and you will be able to answer correctly. Just go ahead and leave the rest to the moment."

"Won't you help me, mother?"

"Yes, of course. While you are on the way and until you come back I'll be thinking for you, holding your success in my mind."

knowing that you will be able to do all you need to do. I'll be with you that way. The rest you must do on your own courage, on your own power. Don't hold fear in your mind. Keep knowing you can do this job and you will."

These first times are trying for the young. They would like to have the strengthening comfort of their mother's presence, their father's personal support, but that would not do. They must go alone or not expect success. They have to face the hard truth that only what one does for himself enriches him, stays by him, gives him power. We can go with them spiritually, help them that way. But in person they must go, and alone.
